

Fraction Wars

Your kids probably already know how to play War with cards. This version just adds a fraction aspect. Students deal two cards: a numerator and a denominator, and then determine whose fraction is the largest. The winner keeps all four cards, and play continues until the cards are gone. You can also play using these free printable fraction
