

Show, don't tell – feelings.

HAPPY

Instead of telling your audience "I am happy", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

SAD

Instead of telling your audience "I am sad", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

AFRAID

Instead of telling your audience "I am afraid", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

COLD

Instead of telling your audience "I am cold", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

SHY

Instead of telling your audience "I am shy", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

HOT

Instead of telling your audience "I am hot", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

EXCITED

Instead of telling your audience "I am excited", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

SICK

Instead of telling your audience "I am sick", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

HAVING FUN

Instead of telling your audience “I am having fun”, can you think of other words to describe your character’s voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

NERVOUS

Instead of telling your audience "I am nervous", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

ANGRY

Instead of telling your audience "I am angry", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

WORRIED

Instead of telling your audience "I am worried", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

FRUSTRATED

Instead of telling your audience "I am frustrated", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

HUNGRY

Instead of telling your audience "I am so hungry", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

TIRED

Instead of telling your audience "I am tired", can you think of other words to describe your character's voice, movement and expressions?

Show, don't tell – feelings.

SURPRISED

Instead of telling your audience “I am surprised”, can you think of other words to describe your character’s voice, movement and expressions?